

FDITE32 CT and its clinical applications

(András Palkó)

Description:

The aim of the course is to provide basic knowledge about the operating principle of computed tomography and its research/clinical applicability.

Main topics:

- Physical and technical principles

- Radiation protection

- Device types

- Contrast agents

- Examination technique

- Research opportunities

- Clinical applicability